Dear Mr. Mathews

I support the actions that U.S. Department of Agriculture is taking in regulating substances used in producing organic food.

The proposed rule will amend USDA's National List of Allowed and Prohibited Substances (National List). The changes are due to recommendations of National Organic Standards Board. And I feel that they are working in the interest of the consumer.

So please pursue this issue even further, so that I as a consumer, when purchasing an organic product am sure to be getting the highest quality possible.

Sincerely

Muhiba Sorguc
